So, what have you got to say for yourself?

I can help you say it better.

↔ You're writing the next Great American Novel and need someone to help massage it into shape. And to check your grammar. ↔

↔ You have Brilliant Ideas that will Change the Internet and need to be sure typos don't make you look like an amateur. Before you hit the publish button. ↔

↔ You've got something to say and need help using your words. Without being lectured to by your 5th grade English teacher. ↔

*I don't have time to read your website.
Just call me. Or email. Whichever.*
